Calling all Hearts for One Little Boy, One Great Cause!

Frederick Dream Dinners meal assembly service invites busy parents to make dinner and make a difference for a local boy who suffers with a rare, fatal disease.

Frederick, MD – Frederick Dream Dinners is working to raise funding for research to beat Niemann-Pick Type C (NPC), a disease that affects nine-year-old Dillon Papier of Frederick. This rare genetic disease progressively robs those affected of their most precious gift – life. There is currently no cure for NPC, but researchers are working diligently to find effective treatments for this devastating disease.

Frederick Dream Dinners invites area parents to come together in support of this worthwhile cause while easing their own busy schedules by making fix-and-freeze dinners for quick, nutritious family meals. Participants will make a month's worth of dinners in about an hour, taking the stress out of dinner hour while saving time and money and supporting a worthy cause.

Dream Dinners' Tracey Muragaki and Jamie Carr will donate 100% of the proceeds to the National Niemann-Pick Disease Foundation (NNPDF) for all new guests who attend a meal assembly session by June 29th. Frederick Dream Dinners is located just off I-270 in Urbana.

For more information, please visit www.dreamdinners.com and select the Frederick location, or call (301) 874-1515. If registering online, type "NPC" in the special instruction box at check out, or mention "Dillon" when attending your session. Offer not valid with other discounts.
